

P. T. A. MEMBERS PICTURE HUGE SCHOOL SYSTEM

A public school system in the Gettysburg jointure complete with kindergarten and a huge elementary center housing all of the first through sixth grade students in the district, was pictured by members of the Parent-Teachers association at its meeting Thursday evening at the Lincoln school.

There was only one drawback to a vastly expanded school system of the future — finances.

Some members of the PTA indicated they are interested in raising the money for additional improvements to the school system. They inquired about a head tax. They were told that some of the districts have a head tax and Gettysburg dropped the tax some years ago when it was found almost impossible to collect. One patron credited one of the townships with obtaining about an 85 per cent return on a $10 per year tax on each person in the district.

The "dreams" of the future of the school system developed during a round-table discussion on "The Future of the Gettysburg School System."

Citizenship Training

Charles I. Raffensperger, assistant county superintendent of schools, started off the discussion by declaring that students should receive more moral training and more training for good citizenship. He said that better education facilities should be provided for the gifted students. "Those students who are a little slow are aided in every way," Raffensperger said, "but we do little or nothing for the exceptionally brilliant student."

He listed three problems, the need for more buildings, more teachers in the elementary field and more money.

Mrs. Norman E. Richardson raised the question of physical education and playground facilities for the students at Lincoln school. Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, said that it was impossible to set up extensive playground facilities at the school. It was built originally as a high school center, he said, and no ground is available for playgrounds.

Mrs. Richardson also brought up the possibility of having physical education students at the local college aid with playground activities in the elementary schools. Keefe said the suggestion was good, but that his experience was that the physical education students are more interested in high school work.

"Need Money"

The possibility of one large central elementary center came up in response to another question by Mrs. Richardson, concerning the status of the High Street school. Keefe said that it is hoped that all the present buildings can be replaced with one central elementary building. Principal hold-up of the plan is the lack of finances.

Mrs. Granville Schultz stressed the importance of industrial arts training to help students to "find themselves" and fit them to be better citizens. Keefe said that one of the reasons for the establishment of the junior high school system and

BENDERSVILLE RESIDENTS PAY ALL '50 TAXES

Bendersville residents continue to be Adams county's foremost taxpayers.

The annual report of Tax Collector Dale G. Crum, filed today with the county clerk of courts, showed that the residents of the upper county borough in 1950 again paid all current taxes during the year.

Not only that, but the report shows that most of them paid up before the penalties were invoked. The total amount of tax on which penalties had to be collected, out of $12,201.20 paid by the residents, was $9.52.

Since all taxes were paid during 1949 there were no prior year's taxes to be paid in 1950—nor will there be in 1951, according to the report. The residents of the town paid $3,418.80 in borough taxes, $6,687.62 in school district taxes, $1,407.18 to the county and $687.60 to the institution district. The cost of the collection was $378.90.

Liberty Reports Too

Liberty township's tax collector's report, filed at the same time, showed that quite a number of the residents there were unable to pay their 1950 taxes during the year.

The Liberty taxpayers turned in $11,998.56 to Collector Donald A. Smith, but there was $3,637.58 outstanding at the end of the year.

The income included $1,512.09 for township taxes, $7,392.33 school district, $2,047.83 county and $1,046.31 institution district. Liberty's collection was made at a cost of $562.88.

Outstanding taxes in Liberty were listed as, township, $435.61; school district, $2,495.06; county, $484.06 and institution district, $258.85.

DR. HOOVER SAYS NEED FOR HEROES IS GREAT TODAY

"There is just as great a need for heroes now as there was in Washington's day," Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the faculty of Gettysburg seminary, told the members of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday evening at the YWCA at the annual Washington's birthday dinner session of the organization.

"While the challenge to be heroes in that day is self-evident," Doctor Hoover noted, "in the words of Wendell Phillips 'No man could have been a hero then who is not a hero now.' Our need for heroes is just as great today as then."

"It is important to give attention to our rich heritage," the seminary educator said. "Particularly it is important in this day when people are being separated from their homelands and when everywhere throughout the world there is a breaking up of connections with ancestry. This is a time when people are adrift in the world, and most men are losing their ties with what had gone before."

Washington's Message Today

"For us today, therefore, more so than at any other time, it is necessary to dig deep to the well springs of our history. If George Washington were alive today to speak to his grand, great daughters—the DAR—I would imagine he would say that he was glad to meet the descendants of those who fought with him. And I believe he would say that those daughters should be eternally grateful for what their forefathers did and should be eternally dedicated to keeping that heritage of freedom which was given them by the heroism of their forebears."

Doctor Hoover outlined Washington's early life and military career, and added: "But we should take special note now of the women who did so much for him. We should pay great tribute to his mother, who reared him in the character that was needed to found a nation."

Sixty-Seven At Dinner

"We should give tribute to his wife, Martha Washington, who was great enough to manage Washington's 8,000-acre estate while he was busy with military campaigns and affairs of state. She had to supervise the farming, the fleet of barges, the workers and the 1001 matters of huge estate of Washington. Not only was she a great businesswoman but she was also a gracious and pleasant hostess who entertained people from throughout the colonies. Great as Washington was, he needed the greatness of his wife to help him achieve the many things needed to found the infant nation."

"And we should pay tribute also to the woman who made Mr. Vernon a national shrine. Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis of Boston, who rescued Washington's home when it was in danger, and who through her efforts back in 30 minutes and say who ordered the files sent to the White House.

The three RFC officials had insisted they did not know who had asked for the files.

Testimony that they understood there had been a request for the files was given by W. Elmer Harber, chairman of the RFC board, William E. Willett, a director, and Arthur Merritt, executive manager for the board of directors.

Each, when asked who ordered the files, replied: "I don't know."

The report of the White House move in the situation came immediately after Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) had said he had heard "a group friendly to the RFC planned a counter-offensive" in which it would attack Senate and House members who had communicated with the RFC.

"I serve notice here and now," Douglas declared and pounded his desk for emphasis, "I am not going to be intimidated in these hearings."

The session opened on an angry note with Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, accusing the RFC of planting reports he had tried to influence an RFC loan.

He called this an attempt to "discredit the work" of the Senate group.

Over 1,200 undergraduates and alumni are expected to fill Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium following the conferences to witness fraternity skits. The skits, which will be judged by faculty members, will lampoon such national situations as President Truman's letter writing, the draft, the recent price freeze and others. A speaker of national reputation is being sought to deliver the address of the evening.

Gettysburg college's interfraternity week-end, regarded as a model week-end by national interfraternity council officers, has become well-known throughout the collegiate world. Over 100 representatives of 12 nearby colleges and universities are expected to attend.

1951 Tourist Trade Opens

Indications that the 1951 tourist business in Gettysburg is beginning to get under way were seen today in the records of the National Park office and the National Museum.

Thursday was an unusually "heavy" day for this time of year, according to officials. Automobiles were recorded from 17 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. In addition, there were two parties from the Union of South Africa.

Other "visitations" included 38 members of Boy Scout Troop 83, Washington, D. C., 36 members of Boy Scout Troop 9, Allentown, and 19 members of the history class of the Hampstead, Md., high school.

This morning 85 students of Biglerville high school, in charge of Arthur Gordon, visited the electric map at the national museum.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

In selecting a chief of police for Gettysburg the borough council should be careful, cautious and painstaking. It should not approve any man until it is definitely assured of certain essential qualifications in the candidate.

He should be a man well trained in all phases of police work.

He should be courteous, and one who can command the respect and admiration of the men serving with him.

He should be a model officer whose reputation is beyond reproach.

He should be a man who is content to confine his activities to borough police work.

We believe that the borough safety committee will thoroughly screen every candidate for this office and that it will not recommend any but the finest for this position.

Reads Play Here On "Opening" Night

Dr. Richard Allen Arms read the play "The King of Friday's Men," the story of the Irish shillelagh fighters which opened on Broadway Thursday night, to members of the Business and Professional Women's club at the YWCA Thursday evening.

This was the third group to whom Dr. Arms read the play Thursday. He said it had always been his ambition to be able to read a play to a group on the night it opened on Broadway. He stated that the ending of this production has been controversial and was changed several times while being produced in Ireland but that the original ending is being used on Broadway.

Tokyo, Feb. 23 (AP)—Tank-led American forces punched swiftly up the mountainous spine of central Korea late today and occupied freshly-vacated Red foxholes overlooking Hoengsong, key Communist defense point.

The twin U. S. spearheads were setting the pace for the powerful Allied offensive that shoved ahead virtually unopposed all along the muddy 60-mile front.

Brief but bitter Red resistance was met in some sectors earlier today. This indicated the Communists are using fight-and-run tactics against the 100,000-man United Nations Red-killer drive.

4-Mile Advance

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported American forces advancing on Hoengsong in the middle sector of the front were within a mile and a quarter of the burned-out town. The push carried four miles.

"American soldiers occupied foxholes dug by the Communists for themselves while tanks and dive bombers dropped tons of missiles into the town," Swinton reported from outside Hoengsong.

Swinton said Allied gunfire on Hoengsong was restrained on the possibility that American prisoners are still being held there.

A South Korean major who escaped from the Chinese reported the Reds were concentrated north of the city.

On the eastern flank of the rugged, twisting central front, American forces captured rubbery Pongchang without a fight and pushed beyond to a lateral road leading to Hoengsong. Pongchang is 25 miles southeast of Hoengsong.

Red Patrols Repulsed

On the far western front, American and Communist guns roared in an artillery duel across the rain-swollen Han river near Seoul. The Reds tried to push two reconnaissance patrols across the stream but they were sent scurrying back.

Reds in company strength were battled by Americans advancing six miles north of Chipyong on the west-central front, southeast of Seoul.

Action was developing in that sector late Friday after being alternately lively and quiet.

It was in that sector early Friday that the Second Battalion of Canada's Princess Patricia's Regiment swept easily through Red opposition astride the Seoul-Hoengsong road west of Hoengsong.

It was the first action of the Korean war for the Princess Patricia's and brought to six the nations in the current ground forces drive against the Chinese and North Korean Reds. Others are Americans, British, Australian, New Zealand and South Koreans.

Other Sectors Quiet

The far western and far eastern sectors were comparatively quiet. Allied troops south of the thawing Han river near Seoul were under some Communist artillery, tank and mortar fire. U.N. forces have made no large-scale assault on the now useless former South Korean capital.

The current offensive brings the U.N. line generally within 35 miles of Parallel 38. Its aim primarily is killing Reds rather than taking ground.

Allied naval vessels continued to pound both the eastern and western shores of the peninsula Thursday for the ninth straight day. This featured a new bombardment by the U. S. battleship Missouri 185 miles north of 38 at the north-east coastal city of Songjin. The Missouri's 16-inch guns hurled one-ton shells at railroad yards and command posts.

the shift of the seventh and eighth grade youngsters to the high school building is to permit them to take courses in industrial arts, agriculture and home economics. He also stated that the school board favors establishment of a public school kindergarten if there were sufficient funds.

There was considerable discussion on the possibility of providing cafeteria service for the elementary students. Suggestions ranged from transporting the elementary students to the high school during the lunch hour to a suggestion that a "lunchmobile" be secured to rush warm foods from the high school cafeteria to the various elementary schools.

Urge Grade Building

PTA members also discussed the possibility of beginning construction of an elementary building in addition to the annex to the high school. Dr. Keefeauver declared that the authority could borrow as much money as it could sell bonds, and that the work could be carried out, provided sufficient money could be secured.

Asked about the history of the elementary schools, the superintendent said that the High Street school was built about 1859 at a cost of $7,000, the Meade school in 1896 and the Lincoln school in 1908, with subsequent enlargement in 1915. When the present high school was built in 1925-26 the school board was criticized for constructing a building too large for the town. However, he added, ten years later an addition had to be constructed. Next year, he added, between 900 and 1000 students will be at the high school building. In 1926 there were 371 high school students.

The next meeting, on "Curriculum in the Gettysburg Schools," will be held by the PTA March 29 at the Lincoln school. President Kenneth Hull announced.

A vote of the group approved the change of the April meeting from April 26 to April 19 to avoid conflict with the Exchange club play. President Hull spoke on the establishment of the national PTA, 53 years ago. Today, he said, there are approximately 39,000 Parent-Teacher associations throughout the U.S. Sixty-seven members attended Thursday's session.

This is a commendable thing. The firemen could have attended the convention for two or three days, with all expenses paid. It would have been a vacation which they have really earned. However, their action indicated that they think more of their company, modern equipment and fire protection for Gettysburg than they do of a few days' outing. Hats off to 'em.

Eddie White, vice president and suspended coach of the Barons, said last night the club was standing pat on its decision.

The players have been paid off and equipment packed, White said. In 23 home games, including three exhibitions against National Basketball association clubs, the Barons drew 65,967 in paid admission.

INVESTIGATION NOW INCLUDES ALL N. Y. TEAMS

New York, Feb. 23 (P)—The college basketball "fix" probe has spread to all New York teams which played games last year in Madison Square Garden.

The current sports scandal reached back into last season when, newspapers reported, police had wiretap recordings of a last-year fix.

The newspapers said the evidence involving all local teams was ordered withheld by an unidentified high official.

Former Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien entered a general denial of the reports.

Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy, while saying he had no information that such evidence existed, has ordered a search of police files. The commissioner said the departmental record check might take "a couple of days."

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, who last Sunday broke the basketball bribe case which rocked the sports world, said he never saw or heard of suppressed wiretap evidence. He added that his office had no wiretaps prior to last January 12. Wiretap evidence was used to gain confessions in the present "fix" case.

The newspapers said 40 wiretap recordings made during the 1949-1950 season indicated a giant "fix" involving all Garden dates kept by every metropolitan area team.

Hogan had a long talk yesterday with Eddie Gard, former Long Island university (Brooklyn) player accused of offering bribes to three LIU stars, and a trio of City College of New York team members. Gard also is charged with acting as a go-between for the alleged brains of the fix, Salvatore P. Solazzo.

The district attorney said he questioned Gard about any others who might have been mixed up in the scandal. Hogan declined to say what progress, if any, resulted from the questioning. He added that the inquiry was "far from complete."

As a result of the New York investigation some half dozen schools throughout the nation have pulled their teams out of further Garden competition.

In a radio address last night, Commissioner Murphy praised the progress of the fix inquiry and assured future out-of-town teams there would be no relaxation in police vigilance against future fix attempts.

The New York Grand Jury, which started sifting fix evidence Wednesday, is expected to take about a week or 10 days before deciding what charges might be made against eight accused collegians and Solazzo.

Accused in the fix case, besides Solazzo and Gard, are CCNY players Ed Warner, Ed Roman and Al Roth, LIU stars Leroy Smith, Adolph Bigos and Sherman White, and NYU player Harvey (Connie) Schaff.

As other basketball bribe attempts were reported around the country, the U. S. Senate Crime investigation committee indicated it might look into basketball fixes but said that no extensive study was planned.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), committee chairman, pointed out in Washington yesterday that the committee officially goes out of business March 31.

Sports Roundup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
New York, Feb. 23 (P)—I'm glad I lived a few years before 1918. There were some pretty decent years back then.

The speaker was Howard Cann, robust, graying coach of the New York university basketball team. Like thousands of others closely associated with the sport he was groping for an answer—just any answer—to the staggering basketball scandal.

The Pirates leave for their San Bernardino, Calif., training camp Monday, but Honus won't go along. The effort would tax his strength too heavily. The years naturally enough have left their mark upon him, despite his still robust build. His mind, though, is as sharp as ever. And his sense of humor has not thinned with age.

Honus passes most of his leisure time spinning yarns—and he really can tell them. Any audience will do, whether it be at the ball field, the corner barber shop, or at home. Mrs. Wagner and his two daughters say some of his best quips are tossed off in family talk.

40th With Bucs
For Honus, the 1951 season will be his 40th with the Bucs. He's been coach 19 of them. As for the future, he'll stay with the Pirates as long as he likes.

The big paved former shortstop began his career in 1895. He swung his booming bat in National league parks for 23 years and eight consecutive batting titles. He scored 1,740 runs and batted .300 or better for 17 years and pounded out 3,430 hits and posted an all-time batting average of .329. In 1917, he hung up his spikes.

No great fuss is being made over Honus' birthday. He expects to have friends in for dinner, then read through the stacks of cards and telegrams he receives every year from admirers old and new.

The Pennsylvania railroad will honor him by naming a signal station at Rosslyn, Pa., "Wagner Tower."

When Honus signed his first contract—to play at $35 a month—he walked to the railroad station and was about to buy a ticket. A trainman told him to ride in the caboose and save his money. He did. In his heyday, he earned $10,000 a year.

Near the tower at Rosslyn is the place where for many years an express train made an unscheduled stop to let Honus, returning from a private road trip, get off at his home—instead of going on to Pittsburgh.

REC CAGE PROGRAM
Girls' basketball will be held at Gettysburg high school Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. instead of Monday, it was announced today by Donald Joseph, recreation director. The girls' team will play at Taneytown on Wednesday evening.

Midget basketball will be conducted Saturday morning at 9:15 o'clock.

The Fish and Wildlife Service says more than 1,000 deer are killed with bow and arrow in the U.S. each year.

HONUS WAGNER, PIRATE COACH, 77 SATURDAY

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 (P)—Honus Wagner, baseball's Mr. Shortstop of Yore, celebrates his 77th birthday tomorrow with one big wish—that he'll live to see his beloved Pittsburgh Pirates win another National league pennant.

The "Flying Dutchman," among the first named to the game's Hall of Fame, feels "it's about time" the Bucs came through again.

But even in his most enthusiastic moods, he hardly counts upon a Pirate pennant this year. The team wound up in last place in 1950. Its prospects for the coming season, although generally thought to be brighter, do not overshadow a championship.

The Pirates leave for their San Bernardino, Calif., training camp Monday, but Honus won't go along. The effort would tax his strength too heavily. The years naturally enough have left their mark upon him, despite his still robust build. His mind, though, is as sharp as ever. And his sense of humor has not thinned with age.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ON PRAYER

There is no known power so certain in its comfort as prayer. We humans are sensitive creatures influenced by our own thoughts, observations, and moods, quite as much as by those outer things of life that daily touch our consciousness. No act of ours however is so intimate in relationship as sincere prayer to God.

Said Stevenson: "A generous prayer is never presented in vain; the petitioner may be refused, but the petitioner is always, I believe, rewarded by some gracious visitation." We invite God as our guest when we pray, and so there is instant peace the moment he arrives in our heart. And there we commune.

When we pray it is as to a Father and Friend. God is not concerned with the literary expression of our words in prayer. He is only interested in the language of the heart. It's always understood, no matter what the language. No one ever goes out into a new day after prayer for strength and guidance that he doesn't face his day with courage and faith.

Prayer melts away so much—of fears, worries, confusions misunderstanding and troubles it is as though they never existed, so spontaneous is the effect of prayer. People who habitually pray are nearly always happy people, no matter how much they may have to contend with. They keep their problems safely locked up until they free them through prayer.

Insomnia can be conquered through prayer. It has been done again and again. You can pray yourself to sleep—and awake to a new day in every sense of the word. God is the keeper of the granary of the soul, and to him we go seeking spiritual nourishment. Never does he turn anyone away empty handed.

God is the custodian of all our dreams and high desires. We have but to go to him in prayer, seeking his counsel and learning from him just how we should distribute them, and work them out, to our greatest good and to the good of others. Prayer is the Golden Key to peace and happiness. Ask anyone who has used that key!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on subject: "Pleasant People"

INHERITANCE

"On the inheritance we had,"
I said unto my brother:
"I drew a little bit from dad,
But mother, I'm sure from mother.
Our father kept accounts, and he Could accurately price things.
But, down from mother came to me.
Her boundless love for 'nice things.'"

"Dad added figures on a page
And got right answers to them—
And that was in a by-gone age
Before machines could do them.
For keeping books and records straight
He had both skill and merit.
But, not one trace of such a trait
From him did I inherit.

"In Eton collars I was clad,
On Sundays, velvet coated.
Such finery was spurned by dad,
But on it mother doted.
Now, when I check myself to find
What comes from one or 'tother,
Deprived of dad's keen business mind,
I must be more like mother."

LITTLESTOWN IS CELEBRATING ITS 87TH BIRTHDAY

Littlestown today observed the 87th anniversary of its incorporation as a borough on February 23, 1864.

Laid out in 1765 by Peter Little who wished that it be called "Petersburg" forever, the town changed its name when two "Petersburgs" appeared in Adams county. Both towns changed their names, with Littlestown simply translating its German appellation of "Kleina Stedtle" into English.

With a history going back into the colonial days, the town is proud of a tradition that George Washington stopped there, on July 21, 1791, and used the town pump while enroute to Philadelphia. General Wayne, with a division of Washington's army, passed through the place in May, 1781, enroute to the capture of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

It's A Busy Town
A slow starter—the town contained 80 houses in 1779 and had a population of only 394 seventy-one years later, in 1850, the town by 1870 had a population of 847 and now is nearing the 3,000 mark.

The variety and extent of its manufacturing industry and businesses is unusual for a town of its size, and one result of that was shown during the depression years, when Littlestown had the lowest percentage of unemployment anywhere in the United States.

It has 20 manufacturing establishments, with a weekly payroll in excess of $60,000 and with employees from throughout the entire area surrounding the town. It has 148 business establishments engaged in 61 different types of business employing 516 people and with a weekly payroll of $20,000.

Historic Events
Located on the Baltimore-Pittsburgh turnpike, the town began early to have a cosmopolitan atmosphere. In 1858 the railroad reached the town. During the Battle of Gettysburg it saw Union troops and supplies pouring through the village streets, and the United Brethren church, the home of Ephraim Myers, and the National hotel were turned into hospitals for Union wounded. Among the distinguished wounded treated at Littlestown was General Daniel E. Sickles, who lost a leg near Round Top. General Geary's troops camped on the McSherry property at Littlestown.

First church organized there was St. Aloysius Catholic in 1791. Christ Evangelical and Reformed, established in 1747, is outside the borough limits. The United Brethren was organized in 1822 and disbanded 1925. St. John's Lutheran organized in 1783, outside the borough; Centenary Methodist, 1835; Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed, 1859, and St. Paul's Lutheran, 1866.

Recent Progress
Littlestown's fire protection came with the organization of a brigade group which was supplanted in 1885 with the establishment of Alpha Fire company No. 1, now possessors of two modern trucks and one of the best equipped companies in the county.

Earliest public school was a log building now located at the rear of the property owned by Ray F. Snyder, 215 East King street. The present two-story grade school building was constructed in 1901. The present high school building was erected during 1932 and 1933. A wing was added to the high school in 1949. Littlestown Memorial field, a first class athletic field with lights for night games, was dedicated July 4, 1949. The parochial school started in 1867. Its present building was constructed in 1926.

Hens on U.S. farms averaged 167 eggs per layer in 1950 compared with a previous 10-year average of 147.

Although principally a western insect, the spruce budworm occasionally invades the eastern and lake states.

Many Nurses Request Hadacol

HADACOL Helps Folks Suffering Deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula.

Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL and many of them indicated that they recommended the HADACOL formula to their patients. For example, Mrs. Kathleen C. Marquess, a registered nurse, who lives at 519 West 2nd St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says this about HADACOL:

"Your HADACOL has already improved my appetite, and I am sure I'll regain my fifteen pounds soon. Those patients to whom I passed on your professional samples are all continuing to take HADACOL and most of them are now trying it in the family size bottle. All have been helped. Some are much, much better from an emotional standpoint. I saw one yesterday sitting on the porch of the next-door neighbor, chatting and smiling. She had only been able to walk around in the house! Just imagine that — after only three bottles of HADACOL!"
Mrs. Marquess and her patients, whom HADACOL has helped, were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

RODNEY L. LAW
GIVES TALK ON
"ART IN HOME"

Robert L. Law, art supervisor of the Littlestown Joint school system, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity Wednesday evening in the P. O. S. of A. hall, following the mid-week Lenten services in the churches of the community.

Mr. Law spoke on the topic "At Home With Art," and told his audience that "the basis of art is the fact that we have three essential things in life—food, shelter and clothing. Everything done in art comes from the desire to create." Mr. Law illustrated his talk with designs of furnishings and food.

He said that modern furniture is designed to save work for the housewife and the trend is toward simplicity. He also spoke of art in connection with food arrangements to make food appear more tasty. He concluded remarks with the statement that "Simplicity is the keynote of design."

Large areas should be used for dull colors and small areas for bright, strong colors, to make a home most attractive.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. Ralph Reaver, chairman of the program committee. Assisting Mrs. Reaver were Mrs. Curvin Hollinger, Mrs. Charles Rabenstein, Mrs. Melvin Miller, Mrs. Richard A. Maitland, Mrs. James H. Spalding, Mrs. George Mayers, Mrs. Rodney L. Law and Mrs. J. Robert Sell. Mrs. Leonard L. Potter, president of the club, was in charge of the business meeting, which opened with "The Star Spangled Banner" with Miss Louise Duttera as piano accompanist, the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the group reading of the club collect. Reports were presented by Mrs. Edward H. Leister, secretary; Mrs. Richard A. Little, treasurer; Mrs. Harry T. Harner, chairman of the cheer committee, and Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, chairman of the finance committee. One guest, Miss Esther Crouse, was present.

At a meeting of the executive board on Monday evening a number of the by-laws of the club were discussed and revised and the changes were read by Mrs. Potter to the club. They will be read again at the March meeting and voted upon.

Donations Voted

Mrs. Potter announced that the record player, originally donated by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, for the Youth Center which was in operation in the community, several years ago, had been gathering dust in the club kitchen. It was decided that the record player be given to the Girl Scouts, as they are in need of one and also because the Scouts are a club sponsored group. Contributions were voted as follows: Twenty-five dollars to the Chamber of Commerce toward the expenses of the weekly community radio broadcasts featuring local talent; $25 annual donation to the Annie M. Warner Hospital auxiliary; $10 to the Heart Fund drive and $10 to the American Red Cross.

It was announced that the Junior Chamber of Commerce had netted $124.55 from the basketball games which they sponsored recently, and this sum was given to the club to be placed in the fund for the purchase of new uniforms for the Littlestown high school band. A contribution of $25 dollars was also received from the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, for this fund.

Mrs. Potter explained that the executive board recommended that the club sponsor some event after the Easter holiday to raise funds for the club treasury and then in the fall omit a fund raising campaign and concentrate on the completion of the fund for the band uniforms. Further plans will be made at the March meeting.

A request was received from the Adams County Home auxiliary for two members of the club to serve on the auxiliary, whose purpose it is to provide some of the things that make life more pleasant for the guests at the home. Meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at the County Home. Mrs. Potter requested that members of the club interested in serving on this committee, contact her.

Tells of Spring Meeting

The spring meeting of the Adams County Federation of Women's clubs will be held on Tuesday evening, March 27, in the form of a dinner meeting in the social hall of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church. The Littlestown club will be the host group. The speaker will be the president of the state Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Carrie Schall of Erie, Pa.

Mrs. Potter told of a meeting which she attended with regard to the local ground observation post under the Civilian Defense program. A volunteer corps of twenty-four members of the club is needed when the local observation post will be manned for a period of two weeks, twenty-four hours a day, in June. Members not present at the meeting, who are able to serve as spotters are requested to contact Mrs. Potter.

It was announced that the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs will be held in York, April 30, May 1 and 2, and a number of club members are planning to attend some of the sessions.

Following the program, the hostess committee served individual cherry pies, with an American flag favor, to approximately 60 members in attendance. The committee included Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, chairman; Mrs. Harry M. Badders, Mrs. Nevaeh

Crouse, Mrs. John N. Sell, Mrs. Millard E. Basehoar, Jr., Mrs. Edward H. Leister, Mrs. Carrie Strine, Mrs. Edna Geiselman, Mrs. James W. Fager and Mrs. Fred Blocher. The next meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday, March 21, at 8:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Luther W. GLORY AND SERVICE

Mark 9:2-4, 14-17, 25-29

Memory selection: This is my beloved Son; hear ye Him. Mark 9:7.
Jesus was on his last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem. He had told his disciples what He would face in that city, and the prediction bewildered them. They needed more enlightenment, for they were far from comprehending what was in store for Him. Also, they were in want of moral courage to meet the coming events and the following trying situations; when their Master was no longer with them, and, humbly speaking, they were entirely "On their own."

The Master Himself may have felt the need of spiritual support as

He thought of the coming encounter with those who sought his life. He was divine and had great power, but He was also human. For two reasons, then, it would seem the Transfiguration took place.

On The Mountain

Taking with Him Peter, James and John, the inner circle of his disciples, Jesus ascended a mountain where there was solitude for prayer and meditation. No one knows exactly what mountain this was. It may have been Mt. Tabor or one of the heights of Mt. Hermon. There He prayed. It reminds one of the prayer hour in Gethsemane not many nights later when the same disciples were present — and again, sleepy. The Lord's practice of praying in preparation for confronting great events in his life, is an emphatic reminder of the need for prayer by all Christians.

While Jesus prayed the Transfiguration occurred. "The appearance of his countenance was altered, and his raiments became dazzling white." Mark adds, "As no fuller on earth could whiten them." The three disciples would never forget this appearance. Always in later years they would recall the glory of their Lord. It would convince them He was not only human, but surely divine. The thought would hearten them, and stimulate them to greater effort.

ASTOUNDING again it was to see

Elijah and Moses in conversation with Jesus. No wonder Peter thought this a good place to be, and suggested that they construct three tabernacles (tents or booths), and remain there. Then a cloud overshadowed them all, and a voice out of it said, "This is my beloved Son; hear ye him." This, it is believed, was the significance of Elijah's and Moses' presence: they represented the prophets and lawgivers of former years. Their voice and work was significant then; now they are superseded by the One who "should come." Here is the authentic and final voice for all time: "Hear Him." This was one time when Peter "dix" (Continued on Page 10)

PRAYER and REFLECTION

If you have ever had the idea that prayer was like Aladdin's magic lamp, then the chances are you have stopped praying. When we confuse faith with fortune we are soon disillusioned.

Real prayer always leads to reflection. When we lay our honest needs before God humbly, we cannot help but see our lives in a different light. Often we will comprehend truths which had eluded us, will become aware of a strength we didn't know we had. Gradually a way opens, a plan forms, a new confidence is born.

That isn't the whole story of prayer. But, it's the way God answers many a prayer.

If you really have stopped praying, and yet you believe such a spiritual resource is worth cultivating, try prayer again! And try the Church again! For the Church helps men both to pray and to reflect.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TRUMAN PLAN GAINS SUPPORT IN THE SENATE

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—President Truman's plan to send more troops to Europe apparently gained strong new support today in the Senate.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate armed services committee indicated he would back Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee in a resolution which would endorse in advance any troop commitments Mr. Truman might make to North Atlantic defenses.

Russell told reporters he wanted some changes in the resolution but he hinted strongly he thought he and Connally could get together. He said he would wait until they reached a final agreement before making public the changes he proposed.

Connally expressed confidence an agreement would be reached. "It will be a bilateral resolution," he declared when reporters told him of Russell's attitude.

Stassen To Testify
Harold Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, was due to testify on the troops to Europe issue today.

The two committees are considering a resolution by Senate Republican Leader Wherry of Nebraska. This measure would seek to bar the President from sending troops to Europe until Congress has set out a policy on the question. Connally proposes to substitute his resolution for Wherry's.

He has proposed that it state simply that the success of the defense effort requires the assignment by North Atlantic treaty members of troops to the European force under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower but that the President should consult with Congressional committees before making specific troop commitments.

Mysterious Shot Hits Conductor

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP)—A railroad conductor was wounded last night by a mysterious shot fired from under a tarpaulin covering a flat-car loaded with government machinery.

James Warfall, 48, of Wilmington, Del., conductor on an 84-car freight train bound from Edgemoor, Del., to Jersey City, was hit on the left hand by the gunfire.

Just a few moments before, the train was stopped near suburban Sharon Hill because air brakes had locked. Warfall traced the trouble—a closed valve—to a flat car.

Police from three suburbs searched a wide area, but reported they had not found Warfall's assailant.

5 CALVES FROM 2 COWS

Danville, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—John A. Rine, Danville farmer, wishes he had more cows like the pair known as "Red" and "Baby." Within the space of 72 hours the two gave birth to a total of five calves—four males and one female. Red was the first to increase Rine's herd of registered Holsteins. She presented him with triplets—all males. Then "Baby" gave birth to twins—a male and a female.

"CAN" FISHING GOOD

Wellsville, Ohio, Feb. 23 (AP)—Fishing has been pretty good in Yellow creek lately. Hundreds of boxes of canned soup were dumped there accidentally after a Pennsylvania railroad freight train wreck. The residents have been catching soup cans. The creek rose yesterday and stopped activities.

Littlestown Cub Pack No. 84 will meet back of the grade school building at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, from where they will hike to a point two miles outside of town. Each cub is to take his own lunch and the group will eat around a fire-place at noon. In case of rain the hike will be cancelled.

Working Together Through Forty-three Years

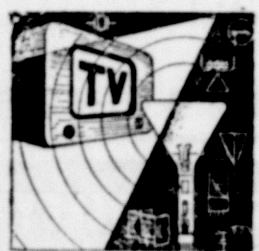

There is a bond of confidence and understanding between old friends which is not possible between new acquaintances. The years of service to this community have brought the truth of this very close home to us. In the loyalty of the depositors who have been with us year after year, we have found our chief encouragement and inspiration.

The business of this bank does not consist merely of making money. Making friends is equally important. This is why we look with real satisfaction at the individual records of our older depositors.

During these forty-three years of uninterrupted banking service, we have repeatedly added to our banking facilities, commensurate to the growth of our town and community. For the protection of our depositors, we have built up a strong capital structure.

Whatever the future may have in store for Littlestown and for banking, we can be very sure that nothing will survive that is not based on integrity, efficiency and fair dealing; qualifications that are characteristic of this bank, now in its forty-third year of public service.

Institutions, like precepts, are sound not because they are old. They are old because they are sound.

OPEN DEFIANCE TO REDS GROWS THROUGH CHINA

Hong Kong, Feb. 23 (AP)—Communist China, extending the death penalty drastically, today admitted the underground had killed thousands of Red militiamen and that open defiance was spreading.

In an astonishing announcement, Peiping conceded that resistance had risen with the outbreak of fighting in Korea.

Some observers here, however, believed the announcement was intended primarily to justify a widespread purge which they expect to increase in intensity.

Dissatisfaction Widespread
The Reds ordered immediate nationwide imposition of the death penalty for any and all actions which might be construed as "opposition" to government authority.

Observers said that by giving the penalties highest government sanction, Peiping also apparently was trying to take some of the heat off regional and local governments. Dissatisfaction with local government was reported widespread.

The Chinese Communists in the Peiping announcement admitted that peasant opposition to land reform is spreading rapidly, "armed defiance" to the Communist regime is getting out of control, and that thousands of Red militia and government officials have been killed by "counter revolutionary" agents.

The broadcast said the situation had grown worse "since the launching of the American imperialist aggression against Korea."

Defiance Is Rife
It conceded that roving guerrilla bands are destroying railroads and bridges.

Submitting the stern new program to the central people's government council, highest administrative body in Red China, Deputy Chairman Peng Cheng of the political and law committee declared "the government must no longer be magnanimous and lenient."

"If we do not thoroughly destroy the people's enemy there cannot be a people's victory," he said. "If we do not suppress the wolves of America and Chiang Kai-shek (Nationalist) bandit groups, security and the victory of the people cannot be consolidated."

Peng asserted open defiance to the regime is rife throughout the country, particularly on the part of "repentant" persons who had been taken back into the party's good graces.

Some birds, swifts for example, never walk.

Association of County Commissioners gave its support today to a move in the Legislature to forestall county classification mixups because of census changes.

Under the present law, Gov. John S. Fine was required to have told a half dozen of Pennsylvania's 67 counties last January 1 that some of their procedures must be revised because of population increases or decreases.

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP)—Governor John S. Fine asserted last night that America's allies "must become partners with us in the fullest sense of the word if we are successfully to challenge" the perils to democracy.

He told the military order of the purple heart that nations helped by the United States "must rise to the point of being co-defenders of democracy" and not simply regard themselves as "wards of Uncle Sam."

Sunday School Lesson

not know what to say, for they were exceedingly afraid." That is why he suggested the three booths on the spur of the moment. His suggestion was not followed. The hour of prayer had ended; the time for action had come. So Jesus led them down the mountain into the valley. From an impressive preview of the glory that would eventually envelop Him, He brought the companions into a situation that called for compassionate service.

The disciples were surrounded by a great throng of people, and seemed almost baffled. The scribes, as usual, were arguing with Jesus' followers. In the midst of the crowd, Jesus appeared, and the father of an epileptic son, his only child, begged the Physician to heal him. As was his custom, Jesus inquired about the faith of the distraught father. The answer has become a familiar confession and prayer, both included in the brief response, "Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief." The child had been suffering from epilepsy combined with a form of insanity, but at the word of Jesus, the "evil spirit" departed and the sufferer was made well.

Baffled by their failure and taunted by the scribes, the disciples asked why they could not heal the afflicted one. The answer from Jesus, "This kind cannot be driven out by anything but prayer." The meaning of the event recorded, for effective living, is the twin practice of worship and work. Without the blending of these two, no life can be complete. Privately and collectively men must seek the experience of God's presence, and hear Him through his Son; and be fortified with the incentive and power of that experience to lay willing hands to the pressing tasks of the day. A confused and suffering world makes abundant demands.
